Dougie MacLean

(D)I don't know if (A)you can see
The (D)changes that have come (G)over me
In these (D)last few days I've (A)been afraid
That (D)I might drift a(G)way
I've been (D)telling old stories, (A)singing songs
That (D)make me think about (G)where I've come from (D)That's the reason (A)why I seem so (D)far away to(G)day

(D)Let me tell you that I (A)love you
And I (D)think about you all the (G)time
Caledonia, you're (D)calling me, now I'm (A)going (D)home
If I should become a (A)stranger
Know that (D)it would make me more than (G)sad
Caledonia's been (A)everything I've ever (D)had

Now (D)I have moved and I've (A)kept on moving (D)Proved the points that I (G)needed proving (D)Lost the friends that I (A)needed losing
Found (D)others on the (G)way
I have (D)kissed the ladies and (A)left them crying
(D)Stolen dreams, yes, there's (G)no denying (D)Travelled hard, with (A)conscience flying
(D)Somewhere with the (G)wind

(D)Let me tell you that I (A)love you
And I (D)think about you all the (G)time
Caledonia, you're (D)calling me, now I'm (A)going (D)home
If I should become a (A)stranger
Know that (D)it would make me more than (G)sad
Caledonia's been (A)everything I've ever (D)had

Now I'm (D)sitting here be(A)fore the fire
The (D)empty room, the (G)forest choir
The (D)flames have cooled, don't get (A)any higher
They've (D)withered, now they've (G)gone
But I'm (D)steady thinking, my (A)way is clear
And (D)I know what I will (G)do tomorrow
When (D)hands have shaken, the (A)kisses float
Then (D)I will disa(G)ppear

(D)Let me tell you that I (A)love you
And I (D)think about you all the (G)time
Caledonia, you're (D)calling me, now I'm (A)going (D)home
If I should become a (A)stranger
Know that (D)it would make me more than (G)sad
Caledonia's been (A)everything I've ever (D)had
